

LOCAL ITEMS.

Mr. Green, the Editor, has been confined to his home with severe illness since Saturday, which will account for any short comings this week.

Logan Corporation Election.

The Democrats Elect a Majority of the Council and Municipal Officers—The Queen City Democratic.

The election last Monday is a Democratic victory and although a complete rout of the enemy, it places the city under Democratic control and assures a wise economical and progressive management in our city affairs.

The 1st, 3rd, and 4th wards went Democratic. Mr. Shaffer was beaten by a few votes in the 3rd on account of a prejudice against the railroad, he being a railroad man. The second ward was conceded Republican, but the Democratic vote was larger than we had expected.

Mr. Will Kessler, one of our most deserving young men was defeated by Mr. C. E. Bowen, who has for years been the faithful and popular Corporation Treasurer. Mr. Kessler took no active part in the election. He became a candidate to make the ticket complete and his very handsome vote is a worthy testimonial of his good standing.

Marshal Deishley and Clerk Gage have majorities ranging in the hundreds, which shows their popularity as well as the majorities for the Democratic party by outside issues.

The council as a body is a good one, and we hope now that the election is over all differences will cease and all unite in working to the best interests of all the citizens of our town.

Horse Stolen.
On last Thursday night a valuable mare was stolen from the stable of Squire Geo. T. Kelsh, of Gibsonville. The animal is seven years old, black mane and tail, with splint on right fore leg, is in good condition, and of a quiet disposition.

On Friday a son of Mr. Kelsh came to Logan and interested authorities in assisting to recover the mare. A reward of fifty dollars is offered for the recovery of the animal and the capture of the thief.

A party is suspected and circumstances point strongly against him. His description has been furnished the officers of the country and it is hoped he will be captured.

There ought to be a city ordinance passed compelling the hanging of street gates so that they would open in, in place of out. There is no more sense in having a gate to swing across the pavement, than there is to have your front door so hung as to open out. Many a person hurrying along the street after night has had his bay-window punched, till he groaned in anguish of spirit, by a gate jar, and such things will happen now and then with the most careful people. Catches and fastenings become worn and ill-adjusted, or a person leaving the premises is careless—the wind blows it open and somebody is injured. There is a right and wrong way to do everything. The right way to swing a gate is IN.

April Snows.

Snow storms in April are rare occurrences, a d always occasion prophecies and predictions from the "seer" interpreters.

On Wednesday afternoon of 2nd instant, a violent storm visited Central Ohio, following in the trail of the cyclone of the previous night, and being most violent where the wind storm was the most disastrous. On yesterday morning a depth of about two inches of snow fell, soon disappearing under the rays of the morning sun.

The most remarkable April snow is reported on April 4th, 1837, when snow fell to the depth of twelve inches, and tradition says, made good sleighing for weeks.

On Saturday, April 11, 1869, a depth of eight inches of snow fell in this locality. The fruit trees were in bloom, and well out in leaf. The snow was damp, and clinging to the leafy branches, broke down the limbs, ruining many orchards, and causing immense damage to the trees of the forest.

The snows of this April have not been damaging as far as we can see, only in provoking discontent and promoting cold.

The "sign," if any, we interpret as a good one, and that the stormy winter king like the Republican party, has given its last annoyance and discomfort, and henceforth pleasant weather and Democratic principles will bless the land and make the people happy.

MARRIED.—On the 3d inst., by W. M. Davey, Esq., Mr. Jas. White to Miss Clara Nutter.

A Rifle Cane.

Sad Death of Park Willard.
Mr. Park Willard, while ascending a mountain side near Charleston, Va., with a party of ladies and gentlemen on Monday was accidentally shot and died instantly. It appears that in going up the mountain he came to a steep place, and having a rifle cane in hand he reached the handle end to a young lady, who caught hold of it, he holding the muzzle in his left hand. It exploded and the bullet entered his left side, going into his heart. Mr. Willard formerly lived with Mr. Frank Baird at the corner of Mound and Seventh streets, this city, and was connected with the Franklin Iron Company in a business way. He left home about a year ago, going to Point Pleasant, near Charleston, and more recently has been secretary of the Eureka Detective Agency of that city. He was well known in this city and had a large circle of admiring friends, who will regret most keenly to hear of his sad death. A number of friends of the deceased will leave to day for Charleston and accompany the remains to Logan, O., where interment will be made.—Col. Journal, 9th.

The deceased was an only son of Mr. D. H. Willard, Superintendent of the Motherwell Works of our town.

After the fatal accident, his remains were taken to the residence of U. S. Senator Kennan, and prepared for burial. His cousin, Frank Baird, of Baird's Iron Works, took charge of the sad ceremony of bringing the remains into full membership of said church. In 1840, Mr. Meier joined himself in holy matrimony to Miss Mary C. Young, and this newly married couple soon after left with the Rehren family their native country and came with them to America and settled in Hocking county.

The married life of Mr. and Mrs. Meier was a happy one, and was blessed with 2 children, 2 sons and 7 daughters, of whom, however, 2 daughters have preceded their father to eternity.

The deceased was an industrious and honest man, a loving husband, a kind father, bringing up his children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord, and an active and faithful church member. In general, he possessed the great gift of good health, until about 4 years ago it began to fail him. An ailment of the lungs took hold of his otherwise robust and vigorous constitution. This complaint subsequently resulted into dropsy. But all these sufferings the deceased bore with truly Christian patience and resignation, firmly believing and ardently hoping amidst sighs and prayers that Christ, his Savior, would soon come and deliver him from his sufferings, and translate him into His Heavenly Kingdom.

This wish was granted him Monday noon, March 24th, when he fell asleep, as we hope, in Jesus, to live with Him in joy and bliss forever.

His funeral took place on Wednesday, and was conducted by Rev. L. F. Mittler, Pastor of the Ev. Luth. Church of Laurel twp., of which the deceased has been a member for over 40 years.

His widow, 2 sons, 4 daughters and 17 grand children mourn his departure. May the God of all consolation and blessings also console and bless these bereaved ones.

Killed by the Cars.

On last Saturday night a young man named Jas. B. Burgoon, living 3 miles in the country, after having spent the afternoon and early part of the night on a spree, started for home along the track of the railroad. On this side of the Weitzel quarry he stumbled into a ditch or water course, across the railroad track, and the conclusion was, struck his head, rendering him unconscious until the midnight train passed, crushing the entire upper portion of the head and one arm from wrist to elbow, causing instant death.

He was found Sunday morning by Grant Watkins, and the news brought at once to Coroner Hef, who, in connection with Squire Brehm and Dr. Mansfield, proceeded to the place and held a post-mortem examination and inquest, arriving at the foregoing conclusions as to cause of death.

OBITUARY.
Mr. Henry Frederic Christian Meier was born March 6, 1814, in Neersen, Germany, and died at his late residence in Laurel township, Hocking county, O., March 24th, 1884, aged 70 years, 18 days.

The deceased was consecrated to the Lord through the sacrament of holy baptism in his infancy, and when 14 years of age was confirmed in the Ev. Luth. Church, and thereby admitted into full membership of said church. In 1840, Mr. Meier joined himself in holy matrimony to Miss Mary C. Young, and this newly married couple soon after left with the Rehren family their native country and came with them to America and settled in Hocking county.

O'GATH ON ST. PATRICK.

(Correspondence of the Sentinel.)
"St. Patrick's Day" is familiar to hundreds who are totally ignorant of the fact that there ever was such a man as St. Patrick. They know that March 17th is observed, more especially by the Irish portion of community, as a holiday, but why, they have never taken the trouble to find out.

This is not remarkable when we consider that in this progressive age the minds of the people are so taken up with the happenings of the day that they lose in an early hour so that by "noon" the house was well filled.

The fore-noon exercises consisted of various reading classes before recitations, and of Arithmetic and History from recital until noon.

After these recitations were finished, Mr. Friesner announced that arrangements had been made for a "Big Dinner," and invited all present to partake of the same and make themselves at "home." This was a grand feature and reminded us of "Old Fashioned Picnic Times."

The tables two in number, were each sixteen feet long and about three wide, and crowded full of everything that appetite might crave for the sustenance of life.

After all had partaken of the beautiful repast a lively game of "Base Ball" ensued, after which school was resumed, and every one present was highly interested in hearing the following recitations, viz: Primes class, First, and Third reading classes. Although these classes are of a low grade, generally speaking, the recitations were sufficient to convince any one that they understood what they were reading, and the great interest manifested by each member of the different classes showed that their instructions were thorough.

But these sets were not the only ones that deserved merit, in fact, every thing about the house and premises displayed order, taste, and thoroughness in the superlative degree. The house was elegantly adorned with eight large chandeliers, and two mottoes, and tastefully decorated with pine, which made us feel almost as cheerful as being in a palace.

The general good order observed of the pupils is highly commendable, and the following statements made by Mr. Friesner in his closing address are sufficient evidence that this order was maintained throughout the entire term. They are as follows:—

He stated to the audience that during the entire term he had not corrected one of his pupils for whispering, that there had been no trouble of any kind to cause ill feeling between himself and his pupils, that this term was the most pleasant and interesting he had ever spent, and that each pupil had been obedient, willing, and ever ready to comply with his directions and requests at the very instant they were given.

Besides these commendations, Mr. Friesner presented his pupils with some beautiful and useful prizes which he begged them to accept as a small token of his love and esteem for them, hoping that they might be reminded by these that he was not ungrateful to them for their kindness toward him during the term, in causing him so little trouble, and so many pleasant hours.

The distribution of prizes having been finished, an invitation for remarks was extended to the visitors, and accepted by some of the other pupils, who were invited to speak before a large assembly of interested listeners.

These being made, similar invitations were extended to the pupils, when one of them, Ed. Mathias, deliberately stepped forward holding under his arm a copy of "Webster's Unabridged Dictionary," indexed, which he presented to Mr. Friesner with the following little speech:

"Speaking for myself, and in behalf of the other scholars, I can truly say that we feel flattered by your commendations, and very grateful for the elegant prizes presented to us. We accept these gifts with pride and pleasure, and while heartily reciprocating the good wishes and kind words of the teachers, we desire to be more generous, to show our sense of your patience and kindness toward us, by asking your acceptance of this—Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, indexed—as a token of our affection and regard."

However insignificant its value may be when measured by the magnitude of our obligations, we trust it will be gratefully received by you to accept of our earnest good wishes for your health and prosperity, and may you always be as happy as you have endeavored to make your pupils during this term of school."

To this Mr. Friesner replied assuring them that it was highly appreciated and that he could not express his thanks to them for their kind words, also that his best wishes should follow them through life, but that there were a number present who wished for a time in the evening. Mr. Friesner concluded and announced that they would have a regular "Old Fashioned McGuffey Spelling" to which they kindly invited all to come.

The weather being rather inclement, the attendance was small, but a general good time was enjoyed by all present. Mr. W. B. Engle was the "Champion Speller." In conclusion will say that the school is in fine condition, and that Mr. Friesner has the hearty good will of every one in the District.

SCHOOL CLOSED.

Ed. SENTINEL.—Having noticed the accounts of a number of the closing exercises of schools in different localities, I thought I would give you a sketch concerning the "Closing Up" in "Old No. 6," Fall's Township.

A very successful term of six months duration; under the management of W. Friesner, closed last Friday, March 28th.

Nowithstanding the threatening of the weather in the early part of the day, the guests began to gather at an early hour so that by "noon" the house was well filled.

The fore-noon exercises consisted of various reading classes before recitations, and of Arithmetic and History from recital until noon.

After these recitations were finished, Mr. Friesner announced that arrangements had been made for a "Big Dinner," and invited all present to partake of the same and make themselves at "home." This was a grand feature and reminded us of "Old Fashioned Picnic Times."
